PAYMENT ALLOCATION

Quote the document number when submitting payment. The customer number identifies the account but does not by itself identify this charge. Amount assessed is the initial charge, receipts applied are payments recorded against this bill, and net to remit is the outstanding amount. Do not add these three figures together. Other bills are excluded from this reconciliation. Keep the portal confirmation with this document.

DOCUMENT TIMING

This copy reflects the bill at the time of download. A copy saved before payment will continue to show the earlier position. After a simulated payment is completed, download a fresh copy to see the posted receipt and revised net balance. The prepared date is the date this bill was created. The payment deadline appears above the posting-status line and remains the original due date on a paid copy.

REFERENCE CHECK

Use the document reference shown near the top of this page. Sign in to the portal, locate that bill and compare the service basis and net amount before submitting a payment. The portal records the result and provides a confirmation number. A declined attempt does not count as a receipt applied. This is a single-document reconciliation, not an account-wide balance or a summary of all outstanding charges.
